Midterm Review

Midterm Takeaways 1/2

My expectations:

- If you:
  - (1) actively engage with class material, and
  - (2) read the book, and
  - (3) did section + practice questions, and
  - (4) check with classmates and/or us in OH, then
  - you should have done well in the midterm.
- Using some of the course language: conditional on doing the work, your expected permanence should be high.

Midterm Takeaways 2/2

- If you did (1) - (4) and did not do well, probably it was a bad day, please come to OH and let's work on a plan so this doesn't happen again.
- If you did not do either (1), (2), (3), or (4) and did not do well, do them and I am confident that you will do much better in Midterm 2 and Exam.
- Final comment: I hope that it's clear now that "consumer approach"  $\neq$  "easy course". It means: if you do the work, you will leave this course with a strong foundation to read and use causal evidence and contribute to policy discussions (and also with strong foundation for further studies in econometrics).
